

STRIKE PARLEY FAILS AGAIN

WILLS RIVAL FOR HUSBAND WITH HAMMER

Wife Traps and Slays California Girl.

By Edward Doherty.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—(Special.)—Mrs. Clara Phillips was indicted for murder this afternoon, the murder of Mrs. Albert Meadows, whose husband was smashed with a hammer, the murder of the woman she accused of stealing her husband's love.

The crime is one of the strangest and by far the most startling ever reported in the history of California.

Two young and beautiful women on a lonely road; one pleading for her life, the other delivering blow after blow with a hammer until her victim was dead. And the slayer was proud of her work.

Eye-witness Tells of Crime.

A third woman, who had nothing to do with the quarrel, sat by and watched until she became sick and fled the place.

This third woman, Mrs. Peggy Carter of 1235 De Long street, told of the murder today, but not until some hours after A. L. Phillips, husband of the indicted woman, had given the story to the police. The man for whom one woman died and another committed murder, gave up the survivor, his wife, to the police for hiding place, and aided them in finding and detaining her.

Mrs. Meadows was a widow, 39 years old, an employee of the First National bank.

Mrs. Phillips' husband is an oil prospector. Mrs. Phillips is under arrest in Tucson, Ariz., awaiting the arrival of her husband. The husband is being held as a material witness.

Worried About Her Husband.

"Mrs. Phillips and I were close friends," said Mrs. Carter, the eye-witness. "I knew she had been worrying about her husband for some time. She said he was paying more attention than she would to some girl I did not know."

"We came downtown on a shopping trip Tuesday, and Mrs. Phillips bought a hammer in a 5 and 10 cent store. I thought nothing of it at the time."

"We stayed at my house that night and she told me all about her husband and the other woman. She said that maybe if she talked with this girl she could get her to give up Mr. Phillips. And she asked if I would go with her to the bank where the girl worked."

"I went to the bank Wednesday morning and waited near a parking station, where Mrs. Meadows kept her limousine. We waited until Mrs. Meadows arrived, and Mrs. Phillips asked her if she would mind driving her to the home of Mrs. Phillips' sister. Mrs. Meadows smiled and said she would be glad to, and we all got into the car and started out Montecito drive."

Drive Over Lonely Road.

"It's a lonely road through the hills, you know, and there are no houses, just roads of houses below. On the right of the road as you go up there are only woods. On the left is a long, high cement wall that curves with the road."

"Stop here," Mrs. Phillips suddenly said, and came out of the car. "I want to talk to you."

"Mrs. Meadows stopped the car, and got out."

"What do you mean by running around with my husband?" Mrs. Phillips cried.

"I haven't been," said Mrs. Meadows. "There's been nothing wrong between us."

"That's a lie," said Mrs. Phillips. "Struck Without Warning."

"Mrs. Meadows had hidden the hammer in her skirt. She took it out suddenly, and without any warning struck Mrs. Meadows over the head. Mrs. Meadows tried to get into the car, but Mrs. Phillips caught her and pulled her back and hit her again with the hammer."

"Mrs. Meadows cried to me for help. I tried to get out of the car, but Mrs. Phillips screamed that she would kill me, too, if I interfered, and I was afraid. I had to hear those pitiful cries for help and see that hammer raised and lowered again and again."

"Mrs. Meadows fought the best she could until she lost consciousness and fell. Then I became sick and I turned and ran away as fast as I could. I turned around and looked back after a while. I saw Mrs. Meadows lying on the ground, and Mrs. Phillips crouching above, striking with the hammer. It rose and fell, rose and fell, rose and fell. My God, it was horrible."

Escapes in Victim's Auto.

"I started running again. I closed my eyes, but I could still see that hammer rising and falling, could see the blood. I came to only when Mrs. Meadows overtook me. She had jumped out of the car and was running toward me."

Increasing violence in Chicago shop districts and throughout the country resulted in mobilization of militia of another state, Ohio, additional injunctions, and further measures to guard railroad property.

men, now on strike, as had been forecast, perhaps proved as great a stumbling block as any to peace progress.
Some of the roads served notice that workers who had not returned to their jobs by July 10 would forfeit seniority rights. Others fixed next Monday as the "dead line."

Jewell Issues Statement.
B. M. Jewell, head of the striking shop craft, also issued a statement
last night. It follows:
"Representatives of the railway employees again showed by meeting in conference today their readiness to cooperate with the efforts being made to bring about an agreement between the railroads and the shop craftsmen."

"The issues in the present controversy were, of course, the subject of discussion. But it would be obviously improper for us to give any details of the discussion."
"It would be fair to say that no conclusions have been reached, but also that to state my own opinion that how, as throughout the hearings before the labor board, the principal obstacle in the way of peace is the financial controllers of the railroads who have directed the policies of the railway executives in support of a general anti-labor program, rather than in the interest of the transportation service of the country."

Blames "Financial Clique."
"Refusal of the railway executives to meet in conference with the representatives of the employees does not, in my opinion, represent the free will decision of a majority of the executives, but merely the dictates of financial interests."

"We are preparing and will shortly publish a statement of the case of the railway shippers, wherein we shall demonstrate that the policy of the railway executives who have brought about the present widespread controversies with the railway employees is the product of a banking combination which controls 82 per cent of the railroad mileage."

"If the active operators of the railroads were free to manage these properties according to true management
principles, instead of being compelled to follow banking dictation, peace would not be difficult to maintain upon the American railroads."

Meets Executives First.
Yesterday's conference were held in the Hotel La Salle. Chairman Hooper met the union leaders first and then the railway executives.

Representing the carriers were H. E.
Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; H. H. Holden, president of the Burlington, and James Gorman, president of the Rock Island.
Mr. Hooper had had previous conferences with Samuel Felton, chairman of the committee on the railroads, and president of the Chicago Great Western, and C. M. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, but they did not sit in at yesterday's meeting.

The union leaders called in before President Jewell, who: William H.
Johnston, president, and H. J. Carr, executive board member, International Association of Machinists; Maurice Rynn, general president, and Frank Paquin, general vice president, Brotherhood Railway Car Men of America;
J. A. Franklin, president, and William Atkinson, assistant president, International Brotherhood of Boiler-makers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers; James W. Kline, president, and Edward Tegmeyer, vice president, International Brotherhood of Steam Engine Drivers, Forgers, and Helpers; Edward J.
Evans, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and Timothy Healy, president of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers.

Discussion at Times Heated.
The discussion at yesterday's conference was said to have been heated,
each of the contending factions holding strongly to the major points they set forth.

While neither Chairman Hooper nor President Jewell would elaborate on their formal statements, it seemed to be the general impression in railway circles here last night that one side or the other must give from its determination to make no considerable concessions before peace hopes may be expected to brighten.

President Jewell will meet today with his executive committee to discuss yesterday's developments.

POLICE TELL OF BOOZE AND VICE AT RITZ-CARLTON

Further disclosures concerning the immorality and vice alleged to be the chief attraction of the Ritz-Carlton cave, at 3345 Cottage Grove avenue, marked the second day of the trial of Eddie Rosenberg, its proprietor, in Municipal Judge Peden's court yesterday.

Details of the police raid on the morning of May 14 came out in the testimony of Capt. John B. Enright and several of the patrolmen who accompanied him on that occasion. Capt.
Enright and Officers Cleary, Flaherty,
and Dave told the jury how the raid on the Ritz was conducted and how much sherry, port, champagne, gin, and whiskey had been taken. City Chemist Louis Jaskovsky told of analyzing this liquor and finding it contained a high alcoholic content.

The hearing will be continued this morning. The state has a score or more witnesses yet to be heard.

HARDING STILL SEES RAIL PEACE; MAY DRAFT MEN

Has Plan if Chicago Deci- sion Proves Final.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., July 14.—(Special.)—The administration today maintained a hopeful outlook in regard to the rail strike and this optimism was not entirely shaken by the reports from Chicago tonight that the meeting
there had failed to bring the peace
which was expected.

The national officials apparently regard the developments in Chicago as merely a delay, not a setback, in the negotiations. It was apparent that even tonight the administration did not see the necessity of changing the attitude which was expressed by Secretary of War Weeks before the result of the Chicago conference was known.

Statement by Weeks.
"Our information," said Secretary Weeks, "is that the strike is near its end. The dispute appears to be close to settlement, the question of restoring strikers to their places with seniority rights unimpaired being the only issue on which the carriers and the union are now in disagreement.
This would seem to give basis of hope for complete agreement ending the strike before many hours have elapsed."

"If the active operators of the rail-
roads were free to manage these properties according to true management
principles, instead of being compelled to
follow banking dictation, peace would

Harding May Seize and Run Mines, Risking Impeachment

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(Special.)—President Harding is so determined to bring about immediate resumption of full coal production that he will not hesitate, if necessary, to take over the coal mines and operate them, even at the risk of impeachment
for acting without express constitutional authority.

The president is so determined to bring about immediate resumption of full coal production that he will not hesitate, if necessary, to take over the coal mines and operate them, even at the risk of impeachment for acting without express constitutional authority.

White House today on the eve of the receipt of the formulation of the response to the coal mine strike.
Both the operators and the miners are highly critical of the President's proposal and unequivocal acceptance of the plan appears to be in doubt.

Believes He Has Authority.
Mr. Harding, however, is troubled with no uncertainty of the course he intends to pursue to prevent a coal famine. He will give the operators and the miners until next Monday to accept a plan providing for the immediate return of the strikers to the mines, with arbitration of the wage dispute.

If the parties to the controversy fail to comply with the demands of the President he will have recourse to the power of the government to reopen the closed mines. Mr. Harding believes that the executive possesses the power to take over the mines and proceed to operate them in any well established emergency such as the existing situation, which threatens to result in widespread suffering from lack of fuel.

The President has been advised that the coal strike is a serious threat to the nation's energy supply. He is determined to bring about immediate resumption of full coal production, even at the risk of impeachment.

Mine Train Dynamited.
Whitesville, Va., July 14.—One miner was killed and ten others injured, four seriously, when a coal mine train was dynamited near Mor-dun.

At Springfield, Mo., three men who said they were strikers were arrested by deputy marshals when trying to break into a railroad material shed.

At Memphis, Tenn., two men who gave their names as Archibald Reynolds and A. Johnson of St. Louis, were taken from a train and beaten
by strikers.

At Des Moines, Iowa, two men, said to be deputy marshals, were taken from a train and beaten. One was later freed by the other. The other was taken into the nearby country, turned loose
and warned not to return.

Masked Men Order Mines
in Indiana to Close Down.
Bloomington, Ind., July 14.—[Special.] Twenty-four masked men called at Sample's wagon coal mine last night,
held up two employees who were there in charge of the mine, and after ordering the mine to close operation damaged the engine and other machinery about the mine. Dr. Sample has appealed to the county authorities and has called Gov. McCray over the telephone reporting the situation. About 250 masked men visited Lunsburg's wagon mine last week and ordered the night shift to stop work.

Roads Call for U. S. Marshals.
Attorneys representing the Nickel Plate, Erie, Chicago and Western Indiana, and the New York Central railways appeared before United States Marshal Robert Levy yesterday and requested that they be given use of deputy marshals to protect their various holdings. Mr. Levy took the matter under advisement, pending communication with the attorney general.

More than fifty deputy marshals were sworn in yesterday and will be employed in guarding the Northwestern and the Burlington shops here.

HOPE TO AVERT CAR, "L" STRIKE BY COMPROMISE

Both Sides Show Spirit of
"Get Together."

The strongest hope of averting a street car strike next week lies in the willingness evidenced by both the committee and the unions yesterday to consider a compromise proposal. William Quinn, president of the street car men's union, announced he would accept a new proposal which the committee has to offer up to a referendum vote of his local.

Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago Surface Lines, has indicated he will submit another proposition to the committee at the conference scheduled for 10 o'clock Monday morning.

William S. McClenathan, secretary of the elevated men's union, yesterday offered by telephone with Britton I. Bold, president of the Chicago Elevated railways, and informed him of the vote taken on Thursday, which resulted in a vote of 4,379 to 14 in favor of a strike.

Effect of Reducing Straight Runs.
The reduction of straight runs would mean that only 40 per cent of the men could be guaranteed a continuous eight-hour day. The balance would be required to work in broken periods from 6 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night.

Answer High Pay Claims.
In answer to the assertion that the Chicago street car men are the highest paid in the country, the union point out that the men at best should be afforded the privilege of an eight-hour day.

ALL SET FOR THE STREET CAR STRIKE

This picture illustrates how hundreds of big Chicago concerns are preparing to deal with the conditions that might be brought about by a street car strike. The young woman is Miss Bonnie Jean Mitchell of the employment office of the La Salle Extension university, 41st street and Michigan avenue. A map of the city before her she has indicated with a red pin where every one of the hundreds of employees reside. Gathering points for those in the more remote districts are indicated with larger pins. With this map it will be comparatively easy to furnish means of transportation for all employees.

Explaining her spending a night in Gilbert Bradley's flat, after dancing late at Murray's club, Mrs. Russell said it was "the most obvious place to go."

Our Aldermen Just Can't Stay Home.
Hypnotized by the ease with which fourteen members of the council streets and alleys committee extracted $15,500 from the city treasury and embarked for Europe last Monday, other aldermen have emulated their example and have departed to "study" various municipal problems, New York and Canadian points being the favorite objectives.

Seven members of the council committee on parks and playgrounds have departed for Boston, New York, Montreal, and other eastern cities without making any public announcement of their junket. Chairman McDonough has refused to comment on the matter.

Col. Carlos Ames, a member of the city civil service commission, drew $300 and yesterday set off for New York to find out "how New York hires its policemen," according to word left at the controller's office.

PRESIDENT OF FRANCE ESCAPES RED ASSASSIN

Communist Fires at the Wrong Man in Parade.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, July 14.—All quarters in the French capital tonight are being subjected to an intensive search on the part of the French police for the other members of the band of young assassins who tried to shoot President Millerand at the height of today's independence ceremonies.

Agents of the German monarchist party are suspected of using young French radicals as their dupes, and in this connection it is believed that the Germans have worked in close cooperation with the Red hand of Moscow.

Yankee Tourists in Crowd.
M. Millerand was riding in the Champs Elysees en route to the Elysee Palace from a military review at Longchamp when the attack occurred. The stately avenue, bedecked with French and allied colors, was packed on both sides with tens of thousands of holiday celebrants.

Spahis to Protection.
At the first crack of Bouvet's revolver, a guard of honor composed of Algerian Spahis surrounded the president's carriage, completely shielding M. Millerand from every side.

Bouvet Tells Story.
Bouvet, who was dressed in shabby black, stood in the front rank of the crowd which was held back by police men and last night Millerand's Spahis fired a bicycle policeman ran him down. At the station it was discovered that Bouvet was a communist and had already served a year in prison for anarchist propaganda.

RECEIVER SETS NAST & CO. DEBTS AT $6,000,000

Brokers' Failure Laid to Over-Extended Credit.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The brokerage firm of Nast & Co., 111 South La Salle street, closed its doors yesterday morning following bankruptcy proceedings and appointment of a receiver by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter late Thursday evening.

Samuel Nast is the only registered member of the firm and holds membership in the New York Stock Exchange, the Chicago stock exchange, and the Chicago Board of Trade. Immediately following announcement of the receiver, these exchanges suspended the firm from trading for five days. This limited suspension was the result of the receiver's announcement that all open trades of the firm would be closed.

Abel Davis Takes Charge.

The Chicago Title and Trust company was named receiver and Abel Davis, vice president, assumes charge of the Chicago office. Notice of the receivership was posted on the doors and drew a curious throng, but there was little disorder. Mr. Davis immediately put a staff of accountants at work on the firm's books.

The liabilities of Nast & Co. appear to be about $6,000,000, but the amount of assets cannot be determined until complete examination of the books is made. Mr. Davis said: "It appears now that the chief cause of the firm's difficulties was over-extension of credit to some of its customers and what the assets will be will depend somewhat on what can be recovered from customers. Fluctuations of the market and perhaps bad judgment in following the stock market also may be partly responsible. There do not seem to have been any irregularities."

The bank creditors are secured in their loans by collateral. But the large creditors are cooperating with us in protecting the firm's assets and have agreed not to throw their collateral on the market. They are giving Mr. Nast a chance to get out as whole as possible."

Agreed to Receiver Plan.

The bankruptcy proceedings were brought by Charles D. Quinn, cashier of the firm, Miss E. R. Nast, a niece of Samuel Nast, and Jerome Nathan. Their claims aggregate less than $7,000. At the firm's offices it was said the appointment of a receiver was agreed to in order to save it from getting into deeper difficulties. The bankruptcy hearing was referred to a master in chancery and hearings will begin next week.

FULLER AND MOORE INDICTED.

New York, July 14.—Thirteen indictments charging Edward M. Fuller and William F. McGee, partners in the bankrupt brokerage firm of E. M. Fuller & Co., with bucking customer's orders were returned by a Supreme court grand jury today. The indictments charge the two men with bucking orders ranging in size from $500 to $10,000.

The Fuller firm went into involuntary bankruptcy recently, with estimated liabilities of nearly $5,000,000.

GOVERNMENT TO BEGIN WORK ON MUSCLE SHOALS

Florence, Ala., July 14.—Orders were received today by army officers at Muscle Shoals to resume construction work on Wilson dam No. 2 at once, using the unexpended portion of the appropriation originally provided until the new appropriation of $7,500,000 becomes available Oct. 1.

The government's engineering and clerical forces are understood to have remained practically undisturbed since work was stopped in July, 1921. This act, it was said, insured speedy resumption of work.

By the decision just rendered John D. Rockefeller Jr. saves being taxed on between $700,000 and $800,000. The property was purchased by John D. Rockefeller Jr. to be presented to the city as a public park.

JUDGE REVEALS GOULD'S SECRET WEDDING IN MAY

New Jersey Nuptials Had 3 Witnesses.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The marriage of George J. Gould and Guinevere Jeanne Sinclair was performed in Lakewood, N. J., on May 1 by Harry E. Newman, judge of the Ocean County court of common pleas. The secret of the marriage was guarded for nearly two and a half months until several days ago, when friends in New York city heard of the existence of a cable message sent by Mr. Gould to one of his children in New York.

The message disclosed that Mr. Gould and his bride were on their honeymoon in Europe. It is not known definitely whether the existence of Mr. Gould's bride was revealed to the members of Mr. Gould's family for the first time by the cablegram.

No Relatives at Wedding.

Members of Mr. Gould's family in New York city and at Lakewood, when asked for details of the marriage, have maintained the strictest reticence. None of the relatives of Mr. Gould or his bride were present when their marriage was solemnized at Judge Newman's home.

There were three witnesses. They were Beatrice Hoskins, a member of the household of the bride, Fannie May Newman, wife of Judge Newman, and I. Scudder Fletcher, township assessor and registrar, who issued the license. The marriage record, which was filed after the wedding in Trenton, shows that Mr. Gould gave his age as 53. The new Mrs. Gould entered her age as 38. Judge Newman admitted the newlyweds had requested him to keep mum, but he explained they did not try to bind him to silence in the event that he was questioned.

Judge Newman's story of the wedding ceremony including a tearful bride who was kissed by the bridegroom at the end of the service, and the embarrassment caused when it was found that the wedding ring used in the service was a misfit.

GLORIA APPEARS; THRILLS CROWD; DOESN'T TESTIFY

Smiles, Poses; Refuses
to Be Photographed.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—Gloria Swanson made her first appearance in Judge James C. Rives' overcrowded courtroom today. She stayed until late afternoon, but didn't testify.

She sat beside her mother, Mrs. Adeline Lou Burns, defendant in a suit to break the will of her husband, Matthew F. Burns, which left her an estate of approximately $100,000 and which left the husband's relatives only $3,500.

The courtroom was jammed long before the film star appeared. Men and women and girls girls especially were standing up all along the walls. A little thing in a dove colored suit, a fur thrown around her neck, her black turban pulled down so that her hair did not show. The hat rested right on the bridge of her nose, and made a straight line across the tops of her eyes, though not hiding the long thick lashes.

Dressed Rather Loosely.

Her long nose sloped down gently from that hat brim. One noted also that she seemed to be dressed rather loosely, without any restraining or strengthening or binding things underneath the coat.

She smiled at her mother and the attorneys, refused two photographers who wanted desperately to take her picture, and gave attention to the witnesses.

She began toying with a blotter, fanning her rather pale features. The blotter went like a shot for a palm leaf fan. He gave it to her, smiling gallantly. She thanked him and gave the fan to her mother.

Balliff Looked Pained.

The balliff looked pained. It seemed there were no more palm leaf fans. He looked wistfully toward the jury box. The ten women jurors were all aging their fans. Gloria went on using the blotter, tapping her lips with her gloved fingers or caressing her chin.

The defense introduced several witnesses to prove Burns was sane at the time he made his will.

Judge Rives declared during the course of the afternoon that he would hold court until tomorrow night if necessary, to allow the defense to present all its witnesses, and to allow attorneys for both sides to make arguments. The case will go to the jury tomorrow evening, it is believed.

COUNTY OFFICERS PROMISE AID IN HERRIN PROBE

Marion, Ill., July 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—Attorney General Brundage of Illinois expressed himself as well satisfied with the cooperation promised him in the investigation of the Herrin massacre, after a conference this afternoon with State Attorney Duty and Sheriff Thaxton.

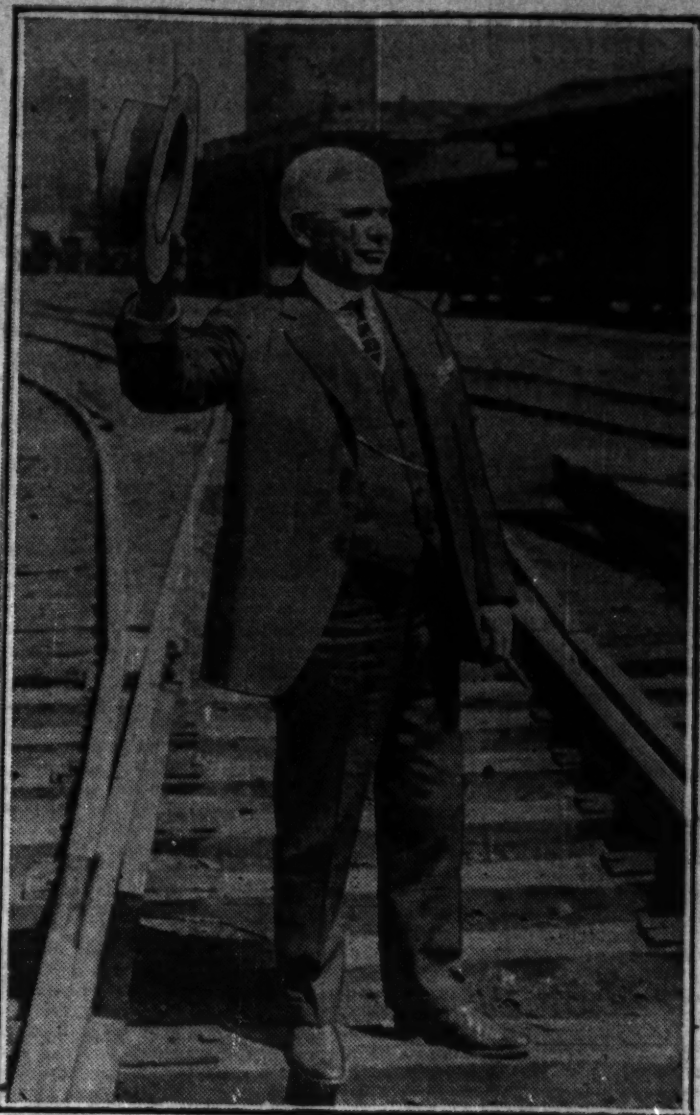

Attorney General Brundage came to see personally that notices of his office of a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the killings were posted. Sheriff Thaxton immediately began posting the notices.

The attorney general told the Associated Press that he found Mr. Duty anxious to prosecute inciters and participants in the riots and that Sheriff Thaxton promised to assist as fully as possible. The grand jury investigation will be delayed several weeks to gather more substantial evidence, Mr. Brundage added.

Twenty-second Herrin Victim Dies.

Herrin, Ill., July 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—The death toll in the Herrin mine war was brought to twenty-two late last night when Guy Higgins, a striking miner, died from wounds received in the battle preceding the massacre. He was the third union man to die. Three wounded strikebreakers are still in the hospital here.

DYE "MONOPOLY" CONSPIRACY SEEN IN EMBARGO PLAN

Senate Rejection Is Likely Move.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Rejection of the dye embargo provisions of the tariff bill appeared a strong possibility tonight, following a day of discussion of the proposition.

In case the embargo provisions are stricken from the McCumber bill there will remain greatly increased duties on dyes which, according to opponents of the embargo, will provide adequate protection.

Senator Moses (N. H.) in a two hour speech, declared that approval of the embargo would mean that the Republican party will "go before the country convicted of surrendering to an iniquitous, impudent, and avaricious monopoly."

Senator Moses declared that the people, through advance from the federal treasury during the war, financed the Du Ponts in the tremendous extension of their business, enabling them to increase their plant value to an admitted $200,000,000, while at the same time taking out net profits which in one year amounted to $129,000,000.

He singled out the Du Ponts for particular attack among the dye manufacturers and was unsparring in his denunciation of the Chemical Foundation. He also criticized the activities of the Textile alliance in handling the importation of German dyes.

In connection with his charges against the Chemical Foundation, the senator declared that Frank L. Polk, former under secretary of state, had stated that he had been led by misrepresentation of the Chemical Foundation to sign an executive order relative to dye patents which he found afterward did not have the approval of the trade commission, as claimed.

HOME FOR ERRING GIRLS BARRED OUT OF RAVENSWOOD

Householders a Unit Against Mary Club.

Thirty Ravenswood householders and heads of families, members of the Ravenswood Protective association, met last night at the home of the association's vice president, Dr. A. J. Behrendt, 4220 North Paulina street, to cast a unanimous vote against the location of a "Mary" home for erring girls—wards and former wards of the Juvenile court—at 4200 North Paulina street.

Formal protest will be lodged immediately with the city council, the city clerk, the health department, and the building department. Since a majority vote of assent by property owners in the block is required, all plans of the "Mary" club have gone glimmering.

Guard Against Future.

It was also voted to appoint a committee of five to take any necessary legal steps to prevent the establishment in the neighborhood not only of this home but of any similar homes which might be projected in the future.

Many wives were present to agree vehemently with their husbands. Not only were 80 per cent of the residents in the 4200 block present, but property owners from other blocks, aroused by the prospect of such a neighbor, came eagerly to sign the membership roll.

In contrast to the meeting of last Tuesday, when Miss Mary Bartelme, assistant to Judge Arnold of the Juvenile court, and Mrs. Harry Hart, Parkway hotel, president of the Mary club, first laid their plans before the association, last night's meeting was calm. But it was extremely determined.

Not Right Type.

"As I told Miss Bartelme, we all admire her and the work she is doing," said Edward F. Wilson, attorney and secretary of the association. "I do not believe these girls are the type we wish in our neighborhood to serve as a picture of a certain side of life to our children."

Mrs. Wilson seconded her husband. "Not only do the parents disapprove strongly of any project to place these girls in our neighborhood, but the children agree with us that they are not wanted here," she said.

The editorial in last Thursday's Tribune upholding the protest of the protective association and recommending that such a home be located in a different type of neighborhood or on the outskirts of the city was read at the meeting and a vote of thanks passed unanimously.

Lotharios Cited.

A letter from a neighbor of one of the two other "Mary" homes in Chicago was read. It described noisy scenes in the home, of how the girls threw refuse into neighboring yards, and of men and boys who whistled and cat-called under the girls' windows.

"That is what would happen here," said Charles E. Schramm, president of the association. "You cannot blame us—though we admire the work the club is doing and agree the girls should have a home—in not wanting that home next door to ours."

BELOW GROUND STATIONS URGED AT OAK ST. BEACH

Would Bridge Deed Barriers, Woman Says.

Oak Street Bathing Attention! Your beach can be made comfortable!

With these words Mrs. Moses Purvin, chairman of the bathing beach committee of the Woman's City club, in an open letter yesterday to the bathers, suggested improvements calculated to satisfy both the bathers and the property owners, without violating the law which forbids erection of any structure above the ground.

Solution Held Simple.

"I do not understand," she said, "why the Lincoln park board hesitates to improve the Oak street beach. All needed is to build comfort stations just as they do in European cities, just as we have done in several places in Chicago, with nothing above ground, except the entrance. I have looked at the city hall maps of the water and sewer connections in the vicinity of Oak street and find that it is possible to build all the comfort stations needed, under ground."

Regarding locker rooms, Mrs. Purvin recommends the temporary plan which she instituted ten years ago at the 28th street beach. She obtained voluntary subscriptions from property owners in the neighborhood and purchased two tents, one for the men, the other for the women, which were subdivided into cubby holes for dressing rooms.

Way to Improve Open.

"This is only a temporary solution, but it could be done almost over night. It would give the bathers a decent place in which to dress."

"The Woman's City club," the letter concludes, "has found an easy way to provide comfortable conditions for the thousands of bathers at Oak street. Immediate steps should be taken to test the plan. It removed all legal objections offered by residents of the neighborhood. The commissioners of Lincoln park need no longer hesitate to fix up the beach."

CORN HIGHER ON EXPORT DEMAND; OTHER GRAINS OFF

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

While the rail strike situation was regarded as more serious, the bulge of the previous day materially cut down the local short interest, and selling in the northwest and local long made an easier position in wheat. Closing traders were within a fraction of the bottom, with net losses of 1 1/2 to 3 c. Corn was strong on a resumption of export business and closed unchanged to 1/2 c. higher, while oats were 1/2 c. lower and rye off 1 c.

Black rust developments in the northwest were not of a kind to induce buying. Instead, houses with northwest corn connections were on the selling side and at no time was there aggressive support in wheat.

Exporters continue to take cash corn in volume with sales of over 500,000 bu. here and in western markets. Hedgers were removed here which gave the market a firm undertone and had it not been for the break in wheat the nearby deliveries might have made a good advance as sentiment is bullish and pressure limited. Illinois and Iowa sold rather freely to arrive due to improved crop prospects.

Oats were dull and easier, the weakness in wheat offsetting the strength in corn. Crop reports mixed.

A moderate export business was under way in rye, but trade in futures was light and fluctuations in the main reflected those in wheat. No. 2 on track sold at 50 1/2 c. over July.

Closing out of a line of 400,000 lbs. September hard for the account of A. D. Nant & Co., who went into the hands of a receiver, gave provisions a lower start. At no time was there as much as the previous day's finish and sentiment was bearish with the weakness in wheat. Last closed 7 1/2 c. lower. Rye were dull but 2 1/2 c. higher. Deliveries on July contracts aggregated 300,000 bu. hard. Prices follow:

There are a few large local operators who are bullish on wheat and buy on all breaks. The market yesterday failed to afford them an opportunity to sell much if any wheat early, and on the decline they gave the market support.

In two days cash sales of corn have been 3,000,000 bu. and 1,600,000 bu. at the seaboard, the latter probably including business sold from Chicago. Domestic business took 350,000 bu. in two days and charting was for 480,000 bu. The market for wheat reflected the activity and strength in the cash trade yesterday. July was changed to September at 1/2 c. difference.

Government July 1 report on spring wheat showed a yield of 24,000,000 bu. and was figured on a per yield per acre of about 15.9 bu., while the August per yield was 17.6 bu. and the September per yield was 18.5 bu. With an acreage of 14,000,000 the August report would suggest a yield of about 27,000,000 bu. due to the advance in the per, if the condition of 22.7 bushels maintained, while it maintained to September the crop would be about 29,000,000 bu. As close students of conditions see it, black rust or hot weather must cause damage in excess of 45,000,000 bu. between now and harvest to offset the increased per yield per acre used in figuring the reports of the next two months.

It is said that about all the corn held in the east and a good part of that held at outside points has been sold, and the demand for fresh shelled and winter wheat has had to come west for supplies. Bids have advanced for corn on e. t. Buffalo and Atlantic ports, and cash buyers are also paying more as compared with the July. Liverpool reports spot corn scarce, with no large amounts offered and holders not pressing sales, while buyers were forced to advance prices.

It is said that seaboard exporters with ocean room chartered for other grain which is understood to have been recently canceled are taking corn to load and consigning ahead in hope of getting a profit. As there are more hogs to feed abroad, corn must be imported in liberal quantities.

Wheat fell at 1/2 c. due to a liberal and a broad demand forced strong to 25c higher prices, with best natives highest this week at 11 1/2 c. Country buyers paid up to 1 1/2 c. for feeding lambs, while far west to killers reached 85 c.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 1,500 cattle, 6,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep, against 294 cattle, 4,520 hogs, and 3,412 sheep the corresponding Saturday a year ago.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Action of the wheat market, traders said, showed the effect of a limited outside buying power, as buyers do not hold long owing to the poor support when the shorts set in. Selling sales by cash handlers and receiving houses were in evidence in July wheat and corn and had more or less effect. So long as the strike and spring wheat uncertainty exist, nervous markets are to be expected and the trade is disposed to wait on hogs.

There are a few large local operators who are bullish on wheat and buy on all breaks. The market yesterday failed to afford them an opportunity to sell much if any wheat early, and on the decline they gave the market support.
